

a circus surprise

A photograph of an aerial silk performance at night. Several performers are suspended in the air by long, white fabric silks, which are attached to a metal rig above. The performers are wearing leopard-print leotards. The background is dark, with some stage lighting visible. The text is overlaid on the image in a white, sans-serif font.

WHO?

Fekat (Amharic for Blossom) was established in 2008 by six young Ethiopian artists.

The circus troupe is now composed of 30 professional artists who perform in Ethiopia and internationally.

As a social circus, Fekat promotes happiness through art for marginalized communities and youths at-risk.

By offering this circus show, you do not only benefit your company but contribute to a greater cause.
